
Main Beach Sand Pump Testing Works, Noosa Heads

Project summary

To prepare for the upcoming storm season, Council will be doing routine maintenance testing of the sand pumping system. These works are part of ongoing coastal management efforts to keep the beach safe, accessible, and protected for the community and visitors to enjoy. Please note, this testing is not for the purpose of replenishing sand on Main Beach.

Duration of work

Testing is planned from Monday 3 November between 9:00am and 4:00pm, weather permitting.

Scope of works

Testing will take place at key locations, including:

- The Intake Jetty at Noosa Woods Bay
- The intake pipes at the pump shed at Noosa Spit
- The outlet located on Main Beach near Park Road
- Sand grooming will occur the Park Road end and nearby the Surf Club

Equipment and pipelines will be visible on the beach during testing. The system will run only long enough to inspect and clear the sand line of any blockages or faults.

Safety measures

A dedicated safety supervisor will be present at each site to oversee operations and ensure all safety management plans are followed. Work areas will be clearly marked as exclusion zones with barriers in place. There will be vehicle movements and minor construction activity to move sand.

Please keep clear of the marked areas and follow instructions from those on site.

Community impacts

There will be some impact on swimmers, surfers and beach goers on Noosa Main Beach. These include:

- Exclusion zones to facilitate movement of sand. This will temporarily restrict some sections of the beach
- Small volumes of sand and water will be handled, with recycled sand returned directly to Main Beach
- Moderate noise is expected
- Signage will guide beachgoers safely around work zones

Council appreciates the community's patience and cooperation during these essential maintenance works.
